To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven;
A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;
A time to break down, and a time to build up; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;
A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silent, and a time to speak;
A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace . . .

ECCLESIASTES 3: 1-8

Our high school years are short and very exciting. They are filled with moments of happiness and disappointment, joy and sorrow. These years will form the foundation of our future, and the base of our lives. Take this time to look back once again, and relive your memories; for, though they are over, they will never be forgotten.

Student Leader

Andy Merrill,
Student Body President

As graduation approaches, the end of the most sensational four years of my life draws to an end. No longer will there be the rallies, dances, games, or any of the other activities we took for granted when we had them. Next year we will enter a new world; one of happiness, sadness, victory, and defeat; with the hope of reaching the goals we have finally established. Some of us will reach these goals, and some will not, and some won't even have this chance.

We can only assume that these years have given us our first step, and, hope that this first step is in the right direction.

To those of you not leaving this year, make the most of the coming years, for once you've wasted them they can never be reclaimed. I can only hope that your high school years can be as memorable and fun-filled as mine have been.

Always,

Andy Merrill

"Cheerio" South-African Style

"I heard in February that I had been accepted for the AFS winter program. I was still in the midst of my basic infantry training, and America seemed very far off. My initial feeling of delight turned to apprehension when I remembered that Americans were very ignorant of my country. I was more-or-less expecting someone to ask if I had Tarzan's autograph.

Finally, army was over and I arrived at Amador. My first three impressions of major differences in the schools are still with me. Firstly, we are forced to pay more attention to teachers; standing up when they enter the room and addressing them as "sir." Secondly we dress more formally than Americans with white shirts, a tie, and jacket. Thirdly, Americans chew far more gum than we, and this I noticed very much as everyone's jaw seemed to be moving.

We are more chivalrous to our girls than American boys (even though we call them hangs); opening doors etc., whereas in America, girls have to shift for themselves; which they seem to do very well. Something that I shall never forget is American football. It's the quickest way 22 guys can commit suicide. It looks like a mixture of tank warfare and chess. In football, just because you might tackle the guy with the ball, you are flattened by his teammates.

I have honestly had a thoroughly enjoyable year, with plenty of pleasant experiences and memories to take home with me. All I can say is thank you very much, Amador, and I hope that someday I shall see some of you again. Perhaps I can be host to some of you in my country because it is always hard to say goodbye forever."

In Appreciation

Leland O. Glandon, graduate of a Wheatridge, Colorado High School and U. C. Berkeley where he majored in Political Science and received his Masters Degree in Education. He served Sutter Creek Union High School as a teacher, vice-principal, and coach until December 1, 1934. At this time, Mr. Glandon became principal. In 1949, under his leadership and guidance, the school name was changed to Amador County High School. July 1, 1952, the Ore Madre Unified School District was formed with Mr. Glandon serving as District Superintendent. He retained this position for fifteen years, until his retirement on June 30, 1967.

Mr. Glandon has served our school for 37 1/2 years as teacher-coach, vice-principal, principal and District Superintendent. On his retirement the Board of Trustees, honored Mr. Glandon by naming the new gymnasium for him. It was dedicated on December 23, 1965. Mr. Glandon had a deep interest in sports and the gym is a fitting memorial to his work at our school.

The OVERLAND GUIDE of the 1850's tells us of the day-to-day journeys of our pioneers from Council Bluffs to Sutter's Fort. Travelers were cautioned about treacherous fords, alkaline deserts and poisonous springs. The location of wood, water and grass--and most other vital information the worried emigrant needed too know--was given. These guides were found on every wagon train, and, while they sold for only fifty cents, their information was a priceless necessity for a successful trip west.

In a way, you are commencing a journey yourself which may be even more spectacular than the overland trip of a century ago. Your high school years are a time of preparation for that trip which will reach perhaps for you, into mysterious outer space. During these important high school years you will have an opportunity to learn about the quicksand, the boiling springs and the rattlesnakes, radio-active fallout, polluted air, and racial strife, as well as lush meadows, blue lakes and snowy peaks, automation, medical advances, and boundless opportunities.

We hope you will be prepared for your trip and that you will make use of the guide books and experience available. Your journey will not always be an easy one, but with good preparation and determination you will find unlimited opportunities. Plan well so that in the years to come you can look back on your experiences at Amador with pride and satisfaction and be able to say to yourself, "I was prepared."
